

House of Good Things

Mrs. [REDACTED] makes me feel safe because she cares about me and wants the best for me. She is strict but means well.

Reuniting is what excites me about being adopted with my siblings.

Everything; Foster moms cooking, support, encouragement (best thing about staying with current foster mom)

I have felt the happiest with my siblings when we all reunited with my eldest brother [REDACTED]

I felt I was really listened too/heard by my previous CPS worker ([REDACTED]), Therapist, Casa Worker, and Case Manager [REDACTED]

I am worried that if I am adopted with [REDACTED] she will influence me to do bad things or things I do not want to do.

What I would like about all of us being adopted together is the time we will spend together.

The best memories I have of [REDACTED] is that there were times where I felt she did care about us and took care of us and the fun moments we shared.

House of Worries

The worry I have about living with my [REDACTED] is that [REDACTED] is a bad influence on all of us and that I will not be able to trust [REDACTED].

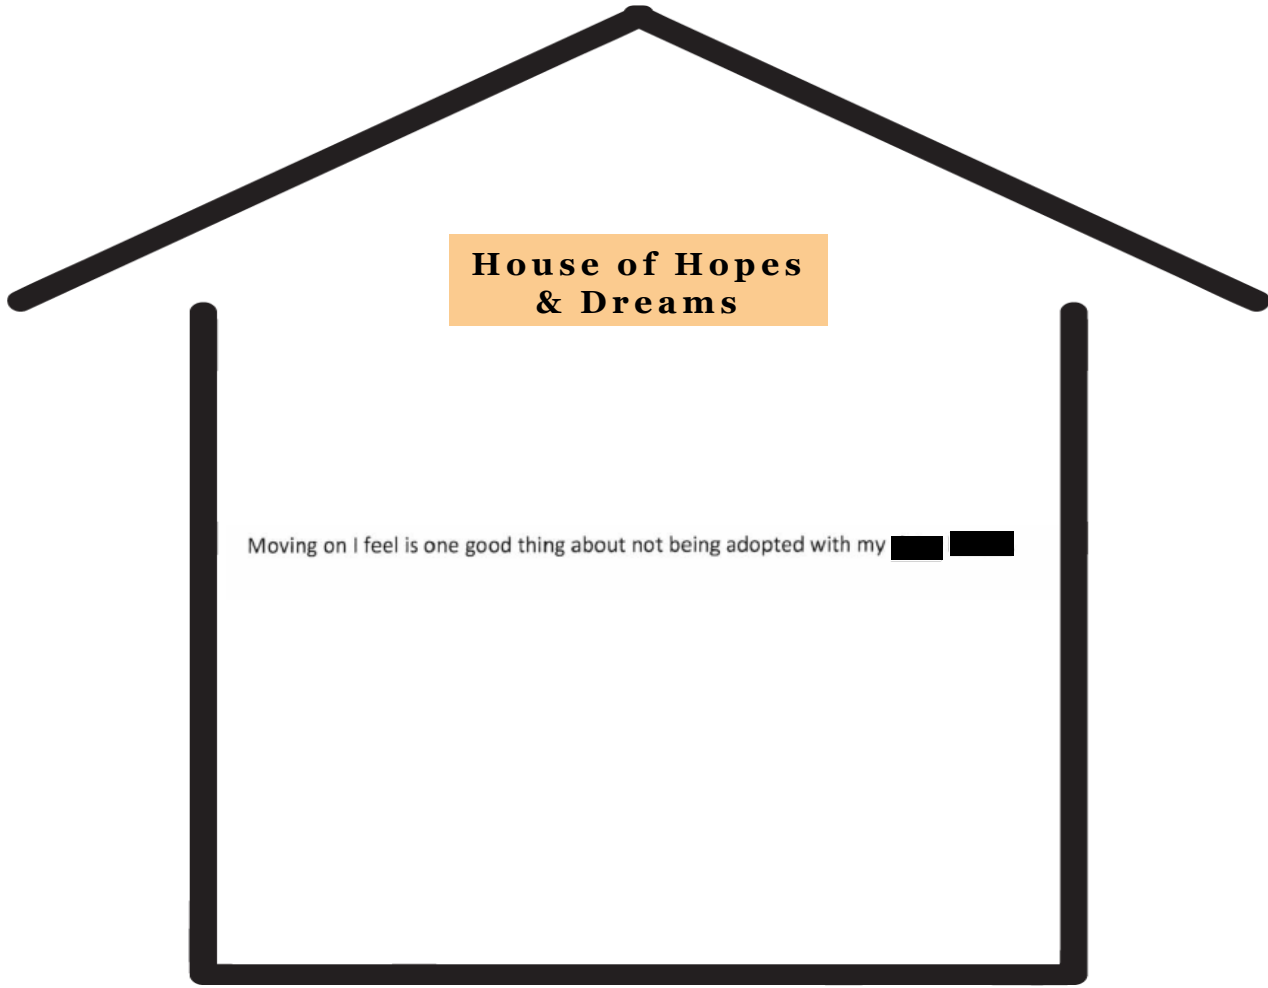

I do not have any worries about not being adopted with my [REDACTED].

What worries me about not talking to my [REDACTED] on a regular basis is not knowing how [REDACTED] is doing.

I feel that my relationship with [REDACTED] would not be affected if I were not adopted with [REDACTED] because I would attempt to keep communication with [REDACTED].

What worried me most about when I lived with my [REDACTED] were [REDACTED] bad decisions and [REDACTED] selfishness. I feel [REDACTED] only cared about herself, and I also felt [REDACTED] was following my mom's footsteps.

What worries me about getting adopted is adapting to new changes.

House of Hopes & Dreams

Moving on I feel is one good thing about not being adopted with my [REDACTED] [REDACTED]
